

Prayer for Health

Right now I celebrate the One Life Divine operating by means of me. This Life is one of peace, love and joy and it permeates my total being. This One is Health and Wholeness. It is Energy. It is Perfection. And this One is expressing perfectly in, through and as all of Life. Every person and everything is an expression of this One that we call God. It is everywhere present, right here and right now.

I recognize that I am a divine emanation of this One. I am an expression of God, whole, perfect and complete. Because this is true, everything I claim for God, I must recognize in myself. I am Health and Wholeness. I am Energy. I am Perfection. I am One with God, and I can never be separated from this Love. Everything I need to know already exists inside of me.

And so, knowing this truth, I speak my Word for my perfect, Divine health. The wholeness that I already am is called forth to reveal my vitality. Every cell, every tissue, every organ in my body is as perfect as the God who created it. I overflow with energy and am vitally alive in every way.

Any and all thoughts, ideas or habits of illness, pain or injury are just gone, back to the nothingness from which they came. They have no power here. Nothing can keep me from my Divine birthright, which is perfect health. Divine, healing energy is moving through me, now and always.

I am so thankful for the Truth of this Word, knowing that it is already manifesting powerfully in my life.

And so I release this Word into the action of Universal Law, which has already said it is done. I let it be so. And so it is!
